

Advocacy Strategy and Influencing Skills

8 weeks online training course

Course summary

This course introduces participants to the core skills needed to influence powerful stakeholders and policy processes in a range of contexts. It also gives participants a thorough understanding of how to develop and monitor effective advocacy strategies. You will explore tools for analysing where power lies on your issue and who has a stake in it. You will learn how to develop a theory of change and identify which advocacy tools and approaches are most appropriate for your context and issue. You will also learn skills in developing and communicating an advocacy message and other core influencing skills, such as how to tailor your advocacy to the interests and values of those you seek to influence.

What is the course format?

The online Advocacy Strategy and Influencing Skills is a facilitated, interactive and collaborative e-learning experience. You will have access to:

- Seven interactive live sessions facilitated by our highly experienced consultant and an instructional producer, including small groups discussions and exercises. Each webinar lasts 90 minutes.
- All programme materials on the INTRAC e-learning platform, including videos and self-paced activities
- Opportunities to interact with other participants on the programme through the platform discussion forums and the live sessions
- One 50-minute individual mentoring session via Skype
- Feedback on your individual assignment

What are the objectives?

By the end of the training participants will:

- Be familiar with the stages of the advocacy planning cycle and be better equipped to develop an advocacy strategy
- Be able to analyse the external environment and policy processes and identify appropriate 'levers of influence'
- Develop a simple theory of change for achieving the change being sought
- Be aware of power dynamics and the role it plays in achieving advocacy success
- Have explored and practised some core influencing skills
- Have reviewed appropriate tools and methods for monitoring and evaluating advocacy

Who is this training course suitable for?

This course is particularly relevant to those with some experience in advocacy which they would like to build on or to those who are intending to engage in some form of advocacy in the near future. Participants do not need to have had formal work experience in this area or to have worked in an advocacy/policy role.

What are the IT requirements?

You will need a laptop and ideally also a headset, as well as access to broadband internet. You will need to be able to download software (Zoom) to access the live sessions. INTRAC's e-learning platform (Moodle) is accessible via browser. If you have any doubt about these requirements, please do get in touch.
